

Hawk Technology Provides Proven Integrated Manufacturing Solutions

Rock Island, ILL, May 2015 - Hawk Technology, Ltd.'s industry leading companies including: Hawk Tehcnology, ALM Positioners, and United Craftsmen; provide their customers one source integrated manufacturing solutions. From their standard line of versatile positioners, to high end robotic automation, to low cost machining capabilities Hawk can help with any manufacturing challenge.

Some of the services available include: robot integration for welding, material handling, or machine tending; 3D tooling design; 3D custom machine design; 3D Ergo simulation analysis; robotic welding or material handling system integration; manufacturability research and development; FEA analysis; floor layout and 3D Lean conceping; fabrication and machining of complex weldments; integration and wiring of complex machines; installation or preventive maintenance services, expert toolmaker services, and more.

Hawk Technology knows that manufacturing solutions are never cookie-cutter and each program must be analyzed, customized, designed and manufactured to meet their customers' process needs. Hawk's 36,000 square foot manufacturing facility is centrally located in the Midwest and houses everything under one roof, including the manufacturing operation, to be able to manage and monitor the entire design and manufacturing cycle. This allows Hawk to better control costs and maintain flexibility in meeting their customers' needs.

Hawk's staff includes engineers, designers, project managers, technical writers, toolmakers, boring mill operators, machinists, welders, quality assurance inspectors, and maintenance and shipping personnel.

About Hawk Technology, Ltd.

Founded in 1994, Hawk Technology's mission is to provide superior services and products that maximize their customers' productivity and success. Visit hawktechnology.com to learn more about their products and capabilities.

For More information Contact:

Joshua Clare
Hawk Technology, Ltd.
8080 Centennial Expressway
Rock Island, IL 61201
309-787-6200
hawk@hawktechnology.com
hawktechnology.com